George was born on November 10, 1935, in Napoleon, ND, the son of Wendelen and Christina Weigel Scherr. He was raised and educated in Napoleon, where as a freshman he fell in love with his future bride who was in the 7th grade. One of George's highlights during high school was being captain of the football team. He taught country school for one year in the Napoleon area. George moved to Bismarck and attended Bismarck State College. He then married Lois Brown on December 15, 1956 at St. Mary's Church in Bismarck. George worked in the plaster and stucco business with his brothers, which he learned from his father. After 40 years, George retired because of complications due to a stroke. George built several beautiful homes, where he and Lois raised their six children. He was very involved with his children. He spent many years as a Boy Scout Leader and enjoyed fishing, hunting, and attending sporting events. George was a devoted husband, father, grandfather, and brother. He will always be remembered for his homemade pickles, chicken soup, and hugs and great kisses. He was a member of the Elks, Eagles, Moose, and the Knights of Columbus. George was known for his generous donations and especially his time repairing churches and other facilities. George and his family, instead of buying gifts for Christmas, made a child's wish come true through Make a Wish Foundation of North Dakota. This contribution brought tremendous joy to a sick child's life and in turn brought joy to George's life. “ I just happened upon your obituary today October, 2008 I was born September 10th 1969. I never met George or Babe but I was told that they provided much love and care for my mother and though they do not realize it, saved her life and mine. She was never accepted back into her own family. but felt that what she had received from Babe and George gave her the strength to always continue on.
