“ To Imogene, who is a very Special Person, who married Wendell, also a very Special Person, who touched our lives in Very Special ways only God knows. May Imogene rest gracefully and comfortably in Her special peace. Bonnie and I will plant a very special tree in Her honor, at the very special place where She once lived, so that She will always be seen as well as remembered.

“ My mother, Caroline, was Imogene's older sister. They were very close. Because Imogene has no children of her own, she had a special place in her heart for my brother Bill and me, and all her nephews and nieces. We will always remember the times we shared with her. I believe she is now in Christ's loving embrace where she is healed and whole.
