

Iris Bailey

February 16, 1961 - October 19, 2013

Iris Bailey, Wing, died Saturday, October 19, 2013, at 6:00 am, at Sanford Health, Bismarck, ND. Private family services will be held. She is survived by her husband, Harold; two step-daughters, Michelle Clint Kohler and Stefanie Ryan Aday; two step-grandchildren, Aubrey and Jayde; three brothers; and one sister. She was preceded in death by her parents, Bill and Nora Ransom; one brother; and one sister.

Tribute Wall

TM

“ A dearest friend is no longer just a phone call away. Iris is a part of my life that I will always cherish. To know her was a breath of fresh air: she had a real opinion of many subjects and was never lacking in courage to say it like it was. Her sense of humor was only less than her love that she gave to others. I met Iris over 20 years ago, and she taught me to be a real, loving person through her example. Right up until the end, she was praying for others, not preoccupied with herself. I will miss my dear friend, and I take comfort in the fact that her husband, Harold was right there with her. She thought the world of her guy and that was always evident in our many phone calls. There is no one that can take her place, but I will see her again. Godspeed to that day. Tracy McDonald, Salt Lake City, Utah October 23.2013

Tracy McDonald - March 17, 2015 at 12:00 AM

TM

“ A dearest friend is no longer just a phone call away. Iris is a part of my life that I will always cherish. To know her was a breath of fresh air: she had a real opinion of many subjects and was never lacking in courage to say it like it was. Her sense of humor was only less than her love that she gave to others. I met Iris over 20 years ago, and she taught me to be a real, loving person through her example. Right up until the end, she was praying for others, not preoccupied with herself. I will miss my dear friend, and I take comfort in the fact that her husband, Harold was right there with her. She thought the world of her guy and that was always evident in our many phone calls. There is no one that can take her place, but I will see her again. Godspeed to that day.

Tracy McDonald - March 17, 2015 at 12:00 AM