“ I have many wonderful memories of the Hager family. Sharon & I were friends/roommate & would go out to the house. I went out to the house on Thursday to see his sisters. They were cleaning the house out. I hope they find lots of good stuff that can make them laugh/smile/& maybe even cry. Rod was a quiet person but remember it's the quiet ones that u have to look out for & that was him. May he rest in peace.

“ Rod was my father's good friend who ultimately became a friend of mine. He was eleven years younger than Dick and 12 years older than me. We could always count on Rodney to help with chores while the family was away from the farm. It was always such a comfort to my father knowing he had such a dependable loyal friend who would look after his farm and family in his absence. Rod had such a laid back easy approach to life. I would stand by and listen as Rod would tell stories about "last night's encounters". Dad would laugh his hearty robust laugh and Rod would lean on his pickup and chuckle as he recalled events. Rod was the truest and loyalist of friends. He would always give and never take. Generosity, Loyalty and kindness are attributes I knew of Rod. My family will miss him. I hope the Hager family takes comfort in knowing that Rod was welcomed by many good people to a place of grandeur. He is now leaning on something recounting to Dad of all the things he missed the last ten years. Burton Pfliger for the Richard Pfliger Family.
